

PEGGY BELTRONE

Cascade County Commissioner Peggy Beltrone has a keen interest in renewable energy and sustainable communities. She developed Cascade County's Wind Energy Marketing program, which, received a 2005 Center for Sustainable Communities Award.

She is a project team member for the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) publication, Wind Energy Guide for County Commissioners, and serves on the steering committee for the DOE's Wind Powering America.

Beltrone also serves on the national steering committee of the 25x'25 Alliance and its Legislative and Carbon Economy work groups. In April 2007, Beltrone was appointed to the Local Government Advisory Committee of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. She co-chairs a subcommittee on Green Buildings and Energy Efficiency.

Beltrone was elected to the Cascade County Commission in 1994. A former Montana Television Broadcaster of the Year. She lives in Great Falls.