

RANDY DEGENHARDT

Randy Degenhardt is currently the senior director, energy efficiency for Westar Energy. With more than 30 years utility experience, Randy has held positions in residential and commercial sales, community relations, and key accounts, economic development and public relations.

Education includes a bachelor of arts, from Sacred Heart College, in Wichita and a masters of science in education from Kansas State University.

Randy has been an adjunct instructor at Friends University for over 10 years and serves on many non-profit boards.